Armchair Nation reveals the fascinating, lyrical and sometimes surprising history of telly, from the first demonstration of television by John Logie Baird (in Selfridges) to the fear and excitement that greeted its arrival in households (some viewers worried it might control their thoughts), the controversies of Mary Whitehouse's 'Clean Up TV' campaign and what JG Ballard thought about Big Brother.

Armchair Nation: An intimate history of Britain in front ...

Armchair Nation diligently debunks many traditions of lazier writers (the first person to say the f-word on-air, whether or not the sets wobbled on Crossroads), and sifts through the memoirs of many B-list personalities in order to have children ' s memories of the early days.
